

"We remember Bob as a godly man. A gentle man. Wonderful husband. Special father. And a friend that many of us found comfort and wisdom. Yes. We will miss him. And remember him for his kindness. And his genuine love. To Bob!!"

"Rest In Peace Bob"

Bill Hiegel

"I will miss one of the nicest human beings that I had the pleasure to know."

Ivan Kanno

"Our thoughts, and prayers to Bob, Joan and his entire family. We will miss him!"

Dennis Barbaro

"Bob was one of the nicest men I knew. Always caring, always interesting and listening to whatever you had to say. Just a wonderful human being. I will miss him greatly. God bless you Bob Harper"

Ron Bossi

"I miss you already Bob."

Phillip Palmer

"Rest In Peace 🥹"

"Bob was so kind to me when I had my prostate cancer bout a year ago, I'll never forget and never stop thanking him for his genuine concern and advice. We won a case of wine together at an Oakmont auction a few years ago. I'll treasure every bottle as Bob lives on. All the best to his friends on this distribution."

Dave DePinto

"I feel like a bit of a fraud jumping on this because I only knew Bob for 5 minutes. But, for what it's worth the guy was a bloody star! Took his lot with an acceptance that I found admirable, always with a smile on his face. The encouragement of this email chain is that he clearly had a very positive impact on many of us - what a blessed outcome of life - leave a "Ripple in the pond! God bless Bob - rest easy"

"Bob Harper is the epitome of a thoughtful, intelligent, empathetic, patient, and understanding human being. Plus, Bob was an awfully good golfer. On that note, I'd like to share a couple of stories on that subject. Bob and I were opponents in the annual "Oakmont North/South Intra-Squad" event. We played a singles 9 hole match against each other before the Oakmont Metro League team play guys gathered for drinks and stories in the members' grill. Well, in this 9 hole match Bob closed me out 5 & 4. I lost the first five holes, and that was that. Today I am glad that Bob was so tickled about our match, though at the time I was less than pleased with the outcome. In fact, I blame that day for the Oakmont team play captain losing my phone number and email address when it came time to fill out a team play roster. Bob and I had another day together when we had the opportunity, along with Jack Hudes, to play the magnificent Shady Canyon Golf Course in Irvine, CA (thank you Mike Malone). We drove out together and spoke of many topics, including how excited we were to play this great venue. I still recall the joy of that wonderful day, sharing the beautiful golf course and many stories and exaggerations. Bob was a dear friend and an inspiration. I'll never forget Bob."

"Here's to a man whom I am pleased to call a friend and inspiration. Bob lived a life of character, joy, service, patience, and generosity which resulted in a life surrounded by love and friendship. His bravery and strength through the last few years were nothing short of amazing. It's a comfort to know he passed in peace surrounded by his family, yet I can't help selfishly longing for more time to laugh with him and learn from him. He was a wonderful man, and I know that his legacy in our lives won't soon be forgotten."

"A more positive person there never was, to the end. His happy face and way of being was infectious. I'll miss him. "

"Oh my. What a loss. His caring, gentle understanding of everyone around him made the world a better place. Just being near him helped make the sunshine brighter. On Tuesdays, I was always glad when the ball toss or the chip selection meant that I would be in a group with Bob. I knew then that it was going to be a good day. His infectious good humor and full attention to the task at hand raised everyone's play. He always gave himself fully to the game and his unassuming natural leadership helped all of us in the group do the same. He exuded warm acceptance and told wonderful stories. He asked questions and listened when we answered. There was an aura of acceptance that made everyone relax. There were lots of smiles, good natured ribbing, and laughter. Where was Bob? He was at the center of the group that was glad to be there.

Thank you, Bob, for sharing your gift of living to the fullest with everyone you met in your life. Of being an example of goodness without even trying. Topaz and I send heartfelt condolences to Joan.

Bob was an incredible, helpful, shining light that just made the world better no matter where he was or what he was doing. He will be missed..... greatly."

"Bob was never far from my mind over the last couple of months. No matter what I was thinking about, in the end my thoughts turned to Mr Harper. Everyone was quick to recognize what a decent person he was—high integrity, fair, warm, funny, and pretty competitive when it came to golf. But what I admired most about Bob was how positive and optimistic he was. Even during the last couple of months, when he was in pain and struggling, he always had a smile on his face and a quip at the ready. What a role model. Love for you always"
